Globalization: Prospects and Problems By JoAnn A. Chirico

Globalization: Prospects and Problems, by JoAnn Chirico, provides a comprehensive and enlightening overview of globalization issues and topics. Emphasizing the theory and methods that social scientists employ to study globalization, the text reveals how macro globalization processes impact individual lives—from the spread of scientific discourse to which jobs are more or less likely to be offshore. The author presents a clear image of “the big globalization picture” by skillfully exploring, piece by piece, a myriad of globalization topics, debates, theories, and empirical data. Compelling chapters on theory, global civil society, democracy, cities, religion, institutions (sports, education, and health care), along with three chapters on global challenges, help readers develop a broad understanding of key topics and issues. Throughout the text, the author encourages readers to relate their personal experiences to globalization processes, allowing for a more meaningful and relevant learning experience.

Editorial Review

Review

“It's well-written, comprehensive, and challenging—perfect for critically introducing globalization to undergraduates.”

(Julie Steinkopf Rice)

“Clearly, the greatest strength of this book stems from the enthusiasm, expertise and passion of the author...the reader cannot help but be drawn into many of the examples and case studies.”

(Ken Wade)

“The work provides strong coverage of a variety of important theoretical perspectives related to globalization and its evolution.”

(Teresa Sobieszczyk)

About the Author

JoAnn Chirico is a senior instructor of Sociology at The Pennsylvania State University. She is the author of Sociological Research Exercises for the Global Age (SAGE, 2009), a 200-page lab manual of twenty-five research exercises with accompanying essays explaining the theories on which the exercises are based. In addition to other publications, she is co-author, with Roland Robertson, of one of the first sociological analyses of globalization, “Humanity, Globalization and Worldwide Religious Resurgence: A Theoretical Exploration,” Sociological Analysis: 46-3, fall 1985.
