I am an amateur at heart. I sculpt for the love of it. That's what the word "amateur" means -- one who loves. I cannot resist creating new shapes in wet sand, new fallen snow, fresh cement or cold mashed potatoes. I'm also a professional. Sculpting is my livelihood, and polymer clay is my favorite medium. No other clay is as colorful, versatile, or available. No other clay drives me to explore the possibilities. No other clay urges me to ask "What if?"
